Surrounding Ski Resorts: Rusutsu Resort, Niseko Tokyu Grand HIRAFU, Niseko Village, Niseko Annupuri International Ski Area, Niseko Hanazono Resort

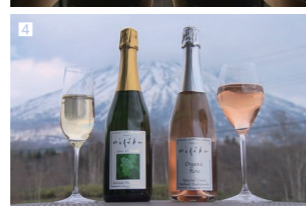

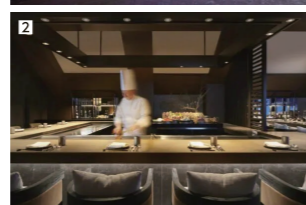

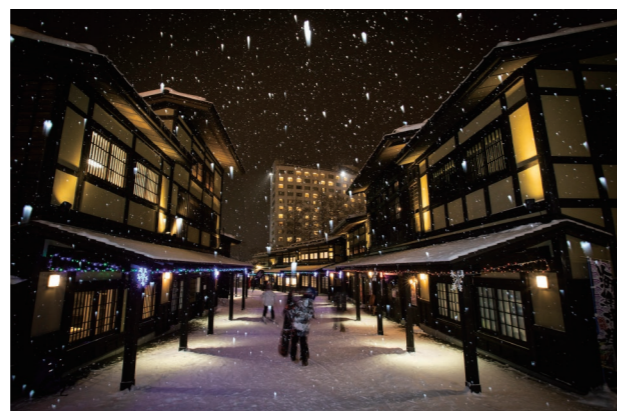

The perfect resorts for beginners, experts, and families alike.

Niseko and Rusutsu are located about 100 km south of Sapporo, surrounding the beautiful Mt. Yotei (1,898m), an independent mountain known as Ezo Fuji. Niseko has four ski resorts spread out at the foot of Mt. Niseko Annupuri (1,308m), with base towns at the bottom of each one, allowing you to move around easily. Rusutsu boasts the largest standalone resort in Hokkaido. Observational data for the Niseko region shows that snow falls for 80 to 100 days during the winter season, making it one of the places in Hokkaido with the highest powder reset rate. Niseko and Rusutsu are located on opposite sides of Mount Yotei, allowing for the possibility of seamless exploration between the two resorts. You can travel between the two areas in about 1 hour by rent-a-car, cab, or, for public transportation, by Donan Bus and various shuttle buses.

Eat&Drink

In Niseko, many restaurants offer dishes that showcase Hokkaido's fresh seafood, locally harvested potatoes, corn, asparagus, and other seasonal ingredients. Niseko offers an abundance of diverse cuisines from around the world, from French restaurants to bistros, bars, and hamburger joints. Additionally, there is an extensive variety of Japanese foods, such as izakaya (Japanese-style bar) dishes, sushi, and handmade soba noodles, plus Hokkaido's soul foods, Genghis Khan (grilled lamb), ramen, and soup curry, making the options truly limitless. Indeed, Niseko's charm extends to its wide variety of locally produced alcoholic beverages, including wineries, breweries, and the small, long-established sake brewery called "Niseko Shuzo" founded in 1916. Rusutsu Resort boasts over 30 restaurants, which is impressive in itself. However, what makes it even more appealing is the dedication to sourcing premium ingredients from their own direct-managed farms. They take great care in cultivating vegetables, lamb meat, Rusutsu Highland pork, dairy products, and other specialty products.

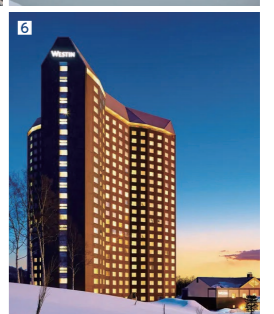

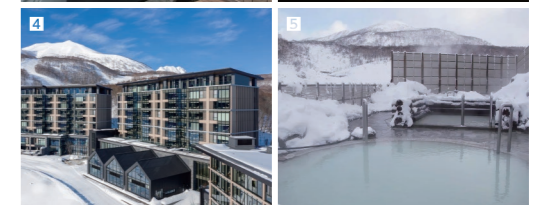

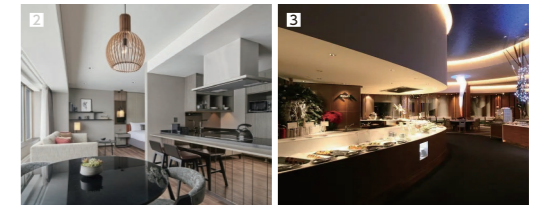

- 1 "Niseko The Village" located at the base of Niseko Village
- 2 Guests from all around the world are also satisfied with their taste buds
- 3 Soba restaurants that use 100% locally produced buckwheat flour are also popular among visitors
- 4 Sparkling wine by "Niseko Winery"

Stay&Hot Spring

In Niseko, a diverse range of accommodations are available, catering to various preferences and tastes. From luxurious hotels to traditional Japanese ryokans with soothing hot springs, and self-catering condominiums ideal for extended stays, visitors can find an array of options to suit their needs. Additionally, there are natural lodges and cottages that embody the essence of Hokkaido, as well as trendy glamping sites that have become popular in Japan. For those seeking a more personal touch, there are charming pensions where guests can enjoy the owner's specialty dishes and engaging conversations. Niseko truly offers a rich variety of accommodations to enhance the overall experience for all types of travelers.

Rusutsu Resort has been honored as "Japan's Best Ski Resort" in the "World Ski Awards," while The Westin Rusutsu Resort has achieved a triple win as "Japan's Best Ski Hotel" from 2017 to 2019. These accolades highlight Rusutsu Resort's status as one of Japan's top ski destinations and recognize The Westin Rusutsu Resort as the finest ski hotel in the country for three consecutive years.

2 Kamakura Sauna & BBQ
<https://rusutsu/en/blog/110/>

Around Mount Yotei, the abundant snowfall offers a wide range of enjoyable activities. Visitors can make the most of the snow by engaging in various activities such as snowmobiling, snowshoe trekking, sledding, tubing, snow rafting, and more. Additionally, unique experiences like snowscape river rafting, and igloo building are available.

These activities cater to different preferences, providing options for days when the weather is not suitable for skiing, for those seeking a relaxing offday, and even for family trips with special family service days. Rusutsu's "Kamakura Sauna" offers a unique experience with tent saunas and outdoor air baths in traditional snow huts (kamakura). It's a must-try activity in the area.

Average annual snowfall : 557cm

Surrounding ski resorts: SAPPORO TEINE,
SAPPORO KOKUSAI, SAPPORO BANKEI,
Kiroro Snow World

The capital city of Hokkaido known for its abundant food and tourism.

Sapporo is a major city with a population of approximately 2 million people. Starting from late October, it receives its first snowfall, and for over four months, the city is covered in snow, with an average of about 600cm of snowfall. Being the gateway to Hokkaido, it offers excellent access from New Chitose Airport. Sapporo's biggest charm: Skiing, snowboarding, gourmet delights, and urban sightseeing all in one place. Around Sapporo Station, there are commercial facilities offering a wide range of souvenirs, local specialties, and electronics. Areas like "Susukino" offer a taste of Hokkaido's finest and are easily accessible on foot. In the outskirts, you can find hot spring resorts and other facilities. Just a short trip away, Otaru is famous for its fishing port with fresh seafood, and Akaigawa Village, surrounded by mountains, is home to Kiroro Resort.

Eat&Drink

What makes Sapporo particularly special is not only the snow but also its rich food culture. As Hokkaido is surrounded by the sea on all sides, a variety of fresh fish like salmon, sea urchin, crab, and Atka mackerel are served in various delicious forms in restaurants across the city. The quality of sushi in Sapporo is exceptional. The variety of sushi restaurants is also extensive, ranging from high-end establishments to specialty places offering only "omakase" menus and affordable conveyor belt sushi, all of which provide satisfying experiences. Additionally, Sapporo boasts a wide range of unique gourmet offerings that are specific to the city. Ramen, soup curry, and Genghis Khan (grilled lamb) are well-known and loved throughout Japan.

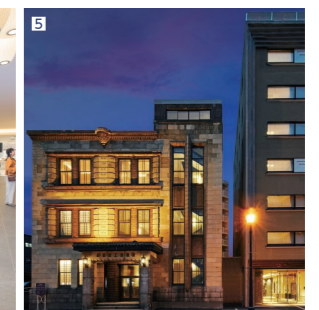

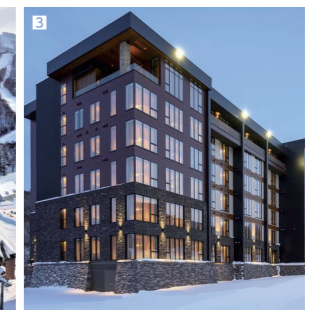

1 A healthy Genghis Khan grill with plenty of vegetables

2 Sapporo's sushi is renowned for its exceptional freshness and high-quality ingredients

3 Miso ramen originated in Sapporo. It is characterized by curly noodles that intertwine perfectly with the rich miso-based soup

Stay&Hot Spring

Sapporo's city center is well-connected to ski resorts, making it an ideal base for your stay. You can easily visit different ski areas every day. Additionally, the central area is home to the renowned nightlife district of Asia, "Susukino," boasting a variety of hotels, restaurants, clubs, and bars, all clustered within an area of about 500 square meters. Enjoying hot springs after skiing is a unique experience in Hokkaido. Just about 30 minutes by car from Sapporo city center, you'll find "Jozankei Onsen," a renowned hot spring with a history dating back to the 1800s. For a resort getaway, Kiroro is second to none. Immerse yourself in a tranquil atmosphere, staying in luxurious guest rooms or cottages, and unwind at your own pace.

Things To Do

Apart from skiing and snowboarding, Sapporo and its surroundings offer diverse activities.

Non-skiers can also enjoy a variety of fun activities. Particularly noteworthy is the "Sapporo Snow Festival" held in early February each year.

Centered around the 1.5km main venue in Odori Park, it features giant snow sculptures, citizen-made snow statues, ice sculptures, and even a worldclass snow sculpture contest.

Planning a ski trip to Sapporo around this big event is a great idea.

Surrounding ski resorts: Hoshino Resorts TOMAMU, SAHORO SKI RESORT, Furano Ski Resort, KAMUI SKI LINKS

Good snow, good mountains, and good town. It's the Hokkaido Powder Belt.

This area located right in the middle of Hokkaido is surrounded by the Daisetsuzan mountain range and Furano, Biei, and the Hidaka mountain range to the south, offering abundant and rich natural landscapes. Many travelers choose to access the region from New Chitose Airport, Asahikawa Airport, or Obihiro Airport, and enjoying skiing in Sahoro, Tomamu, Furano, and Kamui Ski Links. During the high season from January to February, the temperatures drop to below minus 30 degrees Celsius, making it extremely cold. On the other hand, one of the distinctive features of this region, compared to Sapporo and the Niseko area, is the abundance of sunny days. Due to the region's extreme cold, the snow quality is exceptionally dry, and the powder remains for an extended period, making it one of the top destinations for snow enthusiasts worldwide. This area, known as the "Hokkaido Powder Belt," is gaining increasing attention. Visitors often base their stay in the largest city of the region, Asahikawa, and explore the surrounding areas to enjoy the powder at various locations. Asahikawa offers a wide selection of restaurants and dining options, making it a great base for travelers. Additionally, there are plenty of indoor activities and attractions to enjoy even during inclement weather, contributing to its increasing popularity among visitors.

Eat&Drink

Asahikawa City is one of the leading agricultural areas in Japan, producing a variety of vegetables and rice nurtured by the subterranean water from the Daisetsuzan mountain range. Since it is located near the center of Hokkaido, the city's market gathers an abundant supply of fresh seafood from various regions across the prefecture. Asahikawa is renowned as a treasure trove of various B-class gourmet dishes. Some of the city's unique specialties include the classic "Asahikawa Ramen," a soy sauce-based soup, "Shio Horumon" made from pig intestines, "Tontoro" featuring pork cheek meat, and "Shinko Yaki," which is half a young chicken grilled to perfection. These are just a few examples of the distinctive local delicacies that can be savored in Asahikawa. On the other hand, resort areas like Furano and Tomamu boast well-developed towns with a wide array of dining options. Visitors can fully indulge in the gourmet delights offered in these resort towns as well. The Shin Furano Prince Hotel boasts a delectable blend of Italian essence and Hokkaido ingredients, expertly crafted by the chef from "Le Gaulois," a Tokyo Omotesando restaurant dedicated to Hokkaido cuisine. It's a culinary masterpiece.

1 Shin Furano Price Hotel "Le Gaulois Furano". You can savor the flavors of Hokkaido's ingredients in Italian cuisine.

2 Hoshino Resorts Tomamu "Hotaru (fireflies) Street" These facilities are accessible to everyone.

3 Shoyu Ramen, known for its unique soup that combines pork bone and seafood flavors.

4 Asahikawa-originated Shio Horumon (grilled pork intestines) and Tontoro (grilled pork cheek).

Stay&Hot Spring

Asahikawa City, located within approximately a 2-hour radius of surrounding ski resorts and backcountry areas, is an ideal base for your journey. With around 2000 dining establishments in the city center, you can enjoy skiing or snowboarding during the day and fully immerse yourself in city sightseeing after hitting the slopes. Asahikawa offers a diverse range of accommodation options, catering to various preferences. Don't miss the chance to explore the resorts scattered throughout the entire "Hokkaido Powder Belt" from Asahikawa to Obihiro. Places like Furano, Sahoro, and Hoshino Resort Tomamu boast hotels adjacent to the ski areas, providing an opportunity to fully enjoy the resort life experience.

2 TAC Tokachi Adventure Club
<http://tac-go-go.com/>

From Asahikawa in the north to Furano, Biei, and the Hidaka mountain range in the south, the central part of Hokkaido is abundant with rich natural beauty, offering numerous spots to enjoy winter travel. One of the famous attractions is Asahiyama Zoo in Asahikawa City, where interactive exhibits allow visitors to observe the animals' natural behaviors and lively expressions, making it a popular destination. In early February each year, Asahiyama Zoo transforms into the "Snow Light Zoo" and remains open to the public until 20:30. Visitors can witness the unique sight of animals during the winter night, and the park is adorned with ice candles, creating a magical and enchanting ambiance. At Sahoro Resort, the "TAC Tokachi Adventure Club" offers popular activities such as tours to see frozen waterfalls in winter and snowshoe downhill adventures, where visitors can walk, run, and glide through the snowy forest, adding to the excitement of winter exploration.

Top-notch powder and Olympic standard scale

Although only 40 minutes from the city, Sapporo Teine boasts a summit elevation of 1,203m with a view of Ishikari Bay that will make you want to dive into the snowy slope. Their famous "North wall" course is one of the steepest slopes in Japan with a maximum incline of 36° and high-quality JAPOW. Their sparsely wooded Nature area is also open for tree runs. Teine is of such grand scale that it has been used for Olympic Alpine Skiing.

Some of the best powder in Hokkaido and long runs with easy access

Although only 90 minutes from the city, Sapporo Kokusai has nearly 3m of snow during high season thanks to its 1,100m summit elevation. Despite using only natural snow, they open before any other Japanese resort in late November and operate until early May. Their long courses allow for amazing powder runs after snowfall. SNOWPARK, a snow play area for non-skiers, non-snowboarders, and children, is also very popular.

Hokkaido's Culinary Delights

One essential aspect of a trip to Hokkaido is indulging in delicious cuisine. The reason is clear: Hokkaido is surrounded by three different seas, the Pacific Ocean, the Sea of Japan, and the Sea of Okhotsk, allowing for the abundant catch of fresh seafood from various regions. Additionally, the fertile and expansive land is utilized for cultivating attractive ingredients such as vegetables, livestock, and dairy products.

specialties, such as "Soup Curry," a curry dish with various herbal ingredients, and "Shinko-yaki," a grilled chicken dish. Don't forget the desserts made from fresh dairy products, which are also a must-try. All of these dishes are exceptionally fresh and delicious! Hokkaido's culinary delights alone make visiting worthwhile. Visiting Hokkaido for the sake of enjoying these culinary delights is certainly a great idea.

For this reason, you won't want to miss the markets scattered throughout various locations are places. Get your hands on Hokkaido specialties like whole crab and salmon at bargain prices. With plenty of affordable eateries in the vicinity, you can enjoy a culinary adventure while strolling around. Sapporo's Nijo Market and Jyogai Market, Otaru's Sankaku Market and Minami Otaru Market, and Furano's Furano Marche are all recommended options. Sapporo's "Nijo Market" in particular is a gourmet hotspot. Here, stalls are lined with around 20 shops, including fishmongers, greengrocers, and delicatessens. Some shops open as early as 7 a.m., making it a perfect place to savor freshly caught seafood.

To enjoy even more of Hokkaido's delectable cuisine, be sure to visit the convenience store "Seico Mart." It's a chain of convenience stores primarily located in Hokkaido. With stores throughout the entire region, it has gained immense popularity for offering a wide range of original and affordable products. Particularly noteworthy is their wine selection, which includes 70 different brands from around the world. The majority of these wines are sourced directly through their unique channels, resulting in remarkably low prices.

Their "Hot Chef" series of freshly cooked side dishes and bento boxes, as well as soft-serve ice cream made from rich Hokkaido milk, are also exquisite options available in-store.

Furthermore, Hokkaido is a treasure trove of local cuisine. There's "Genghis Khan," a dish comprising of lamb barbequed in a special sauce along with a variety of vegetables. Popular among travelers from abroad, there's Sapporo Miso Ramen and Asahikawa Soy-Sauce Ramen. There's also a variety of regional Moreover, stores which cater to a large number of foreign visitors, such as those in Niseko, offer a lineup of products that you won't typically find in regular convenience stores in Japan, including high-end wines like Dom Pérignon and local Hokkaido specialties.
